By W. H. J. BOOT. With eighteen colored plates and numerous wood-engravings, and full instructions to the pupil as to the manner of mixing and applying the colors. Oblong 4to, cloth, $2.50.

"I don't know how it is, but I can't do trees," is a remark an artist frequently hears, and it is often justified by the poor and crude attempts at tree-delineation that accompany it.

"I'm very fond of out-door sketching—nothing is so nice; and although I love trees, and have tried to paint them many a time, somehow or other I can't manage it," continues the disconsolate one; and this idea of natural inability in regard to tree-painting perhaps becomes with him a settled conviction, and he goes floundering on, blotting-in his trees with meaningless and inartistic dabs (which by and by become his recipe), and, from very hopelessness, making little or no attempt at reproducing the forms which, as a matter of fact, he sees quite plainly, and is perfectly conscious of.

The programme for the fourteenth year of this magazine, and the third under the new name, is, if anything, more interesting and popular than ever. With every season, THE CENTURY shows a decided gain in circulation. The new volume begins with November, and, when possible, subscriptions should begin with that issue. The following are some of the features of the coming year:

Three Stories by Henry James, of varying lengths, to appear through the year.

The New Astronomy, untechnical articles, by Prof. S. P. LANGLEY, describing the most interesting of recent discoveries in the sun and stars.

A Novelette by H. H. Boyesen, author of "Gunnar," etc. A vivid and sparkling story.

The New Era in American Architecture, a series of papers descriptive of the best work of American architects in Public Buildings, City and Country Houses, etc. To be profusely illustrated.

A Novelette by Robert Grant, author of "Confessions of a Frivolous Girl," etc., entitled "An Average Man"—a story of New York.

The Bread-winners one of the most remarkable novels of the day, to be completed in January.

"Christianity and Wealth," with other essays, by the author of "The Christian League of Connecticut," etc., on the application of Christian morals to the present phases of modern life.

Coasting About the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a series of entertaining articles, profusely illustrated.

Scenes from the Novelists, Hawthorne, George Eliot, and Cable, with authentic drawings.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS' NEW BOOKS.

THE MERRY ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD,

Of Great Renown in Nottinghamshire. Written and illustrated by HOWARD PYLE. One volume, 4to, full embossed leather, antique, from the author's designs, $4.50.

HIS book is without doubt the most original and elaborate ever created by an American artist. Mr. Pyle has told with pencil and pen the complete and consecutive story gathered from the old ballads and legends of Robin Hood and his merry men in their haunts in Sherwood forest. There is something thoroughly English and home-bred in these episodes in the life of the bold outlaw. His sunny, open air nature, his matchless skill at archery, his generous disposition, his love of fair play, and his ever-present courtesy to women, form a picture that has no counterpart in the folk-lore of any other people. The illustrations which Mr. Pyle has strewn profusely throughout his book are superb. They are for the most part in heavy outline, strong and full of vigor and beauty. As specimens of figure-drawing they are among the most admirable and artistic series that an American artist has ever produced. Every detail has been carefully wrought out by the author, the rich leather binding is in perfect keeping with its contents, and the elaborate chapter-headings and initial letters and vignettes are especially noteworthy specimens of this form of decoration.

A NEW COLLECTION OF ENGLISH POETRY.

English Verse.

Edited by W. J. LINTON and R. H. STODDARD. A series of five small volumes, 12mo, about 350 pp. each, $1.

I. CHAUCER TO BURNS. Now Ready.

II. LYRICS OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY. Now Ready.

Nearly Ready:

III. BALLADS AND ROMANCES.

IV. DRAMATIC SCENES AND CHARACTERS.

V. TRANSLATIONS.

The volumes will be sold separately or in sets.

This collection is the largest yet undertaken, and covers more fully than any other the whole field of English poetical literature. At the same time, its form is the most convenient possible, the five volumes of handy size greatly surpassing in this respect a single heavy book.

Each volume will contain, as an introduction, an essay by Mr. Stoddard on the period or class of English Poetry which it covers. The introduction to the first volume also treats of English Poetry before Chaucer.

A HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS

Are expended every year by the American people for their periodical literature, with very little idea of economy in the transaction, such as business wisdom dictates in the wholesale purchase of other commodities. The above offers give the individual purchaser the advantages of wholesale rates, with no agents or middlemen of any kind—the subscriber getting the whole advantage. The list given above is only an example of what we are prepared to offer to all who include THE CONTINENT in their lists. If you are going to take any of the periodicals named, or any others, submit your list for our estimate. It will defy competition. As to THE CONTINENT itself, the New York Observer says: "It ranks in literary merit and artistic quality with the best and oldest-established magazines in the country; and the poet Whittier said, in renewing his subscription: 'It has more than fulfilled its promises; I cannot do without it.' THE CONTINENT has been lavish of promises, and has fulfilled every one. It will fulfil these. We are glad to answer inquiries. Let us know what you want. Specimen copies sent on application. Subscriptions to THE CONTINENT and other periodicals may begin with any number of either. Be sure and state when you want each to begin. Remit by draft or money order. The NEW POSTAL NOTES are just out, and will be found very convenient in remitting odd sums of money. The above figures are "odd" enough; that is, because they are figured down to the lowest cent for your advantage.

The best American artists have drawn these illustrations, producing a great number of choice examples of the high perfection which wood-engraving has reached in the New World. The general supervision of the work has devolved upon Mr. A. V. S. ANTHONY, who held the same relation to the recent magnificent editions of "Lucile" and "The Lady of the Lake," thus insuring for these illustrations the utmost accuracy in study, taste and composition, and elegance in finish. The publishers believe that in this form and with this elegance of finish the work will be widely welcomed on its merits as a Fine-Art Edition, and become the leading Holiday Gift-Book of the year.
